

ABSTRACT

In order to produce a sawing machine including a plurality of drives and a control unit which is constructed in a simple manner in regard to the control of the drive system, it is proposed that a first drive and a second drive be controlled in such a manner that they are not operable at the same time and that the first drive and the second drive be coupled to a common frequency converter.